

TWIN CITIES INDYMEDIA PRESENTS:

This controversial 1973 film, directed by Ivan Dixon (Sgt. Kinchloe from the TV series Hogan's Heroes), features Lawrence Cook as Dan Freeman, a CIA recruit who turns on "the Agency" and uses his training in spy craft and urban warfare to foment inner-city revolution.

The Spook Who Sat by the Door is over 30 years old, but the film's revolutionary ideals and stinging criticism of U.S. government, society and racism are still right on target. It is rarely screened, so don't miss this unique political thriller.

WHEN: Tuesday, 19 July, at 8:30pm

WHERE: The Dinkytowner Cafe, 412 1/2 14th Avenue SE, Minneapolis

Presented by Twin Cities Indymedia (<http://tc.indymedia.org>) and
The Usual Suspects (<http://www.browncross.com/usualsuspects>)